

PRIA IN TOUCH

March 9, 2023

Standards & Best Practices Committee Meets

PRIA's Standards & Best Practices Committee has scheduled bi-monthly meetings during which members of the committee will hear from the co-chairs of active work groups on the status of their projects. The first standing meeting was held on March 3.

During the meeting, Candace Dry, DART, reported on the first two meetings of the recently approved Blockchain Technology Work Group. The project will be segmented into four components.

1. Blockchain basics
2. Current uses (business)
3. Current uses (government)
4. Legislation

Work group volunteers can select one or more of the components on which to work. Sub-groups, based on these components, will work concurrently reporting back to the full work group with their progress. Contact work group co-chairs Candace Dry (cdry@figure.com) or Mary Louis Nicholson (mlnicholson@tarrantcounty.com) if you are interested in serving.

The next meeting of PRIA's Standards & Best Practices Committee is scheduled for Friday, May 5, Noon, ET.

Education Is Our Bread and Butter

When one thinks about the primary benefit of membership in PRIA, it often comes down to education. Whether its our monthly webinars, the content in our learning management system or the sessions at our two in-person events, education is PRIA's core member service.

At the 2023 Winter Symposium, PRIA leadership met prior to the conference to put together a strategic plan for the next two years. Based on what was mentioned, one can probably guess what a major initiative of that plan was. That's right. Education. In the coming weeks, the work of the Education Committee is going to be extremely important as we tackle some of the key initiatives in the plan. PRIA is seeking thought leaders to step-up and serve.
