

Notarize Appoints Larry D'Angelo President and Chief Commercial Officer

Larry joins Notarize after two years on the Board of Directors and an esteemed career as an executive in SaaS and private equity.

BOSTON, Mass., January 21, 2021 -- Notarize, the pioneer and market leader in Remote Online Notarization (RON), today announced the appointment of Larry D'Angelo as the company's first President and Chief Commercial Officer.

Notarize is rewiring industries to bring trust to life and business' most important moments and make them more convenient, secure, and verifiable. Notarize pioneered the online notarization category, and will continue to refine and reimagine the solutions the company offers to aid digitization across the real estate, auto, financial services industries, and infinite others. The rapid digitization of industries isn't slowing down - it's only accelerating, and Notarize is meeting customers and partners at this moment with the addition of Larry D'Angelo to the executive team.

Already intimately involved in Notarize's business, Larry has served on the Notarize Board of Directors for the past two years. An accomplished industry veteran, Larry ran LogMeIn's go-to-market as their Chief Sales Officer. Larry led a team of 1,200+, built LogMeIn into a $1.3B revenue business, and the world's 7th largest SaaS company. Larry also spent the past two years in private equity, working with both Cove Hill Partners and M33 Growth's portfolio companies. As part of his extensive experience, Larry led numerous startups and corporate divisions through various stages of growth. A very difficult challenge, accomplished several times over.

"I've watched Notarize's trajectory over the years, first as an observer, then as a board member as the team pioneered and defined the category and rewired a far better, simpler solution to the incumbent experience allowing the pace of business velocity to increase," said Larry D'Angelo. "Digital transformation is well underway across almost every category you can think of, and demand for the technology platform Notarize pioneered has never been greater. I'm looking forward to joining the world-class team to grow Notarize's already strong customer and partner ecosystem into the next phase and beyond."

Since Notarize's founding, the team has captured key verticals and served clients from all walks of life and that rapidly accelerated during a pandemic that has pushed individuals and businesses alike into unique moments of need. After a year of unprecedented growth for Notarize's business, the company is now at this unique window of opportunity that is best served by Larry's irreplicable experience.

"Larry's expertise, creativity, and thoughtfulness are why he was initially asked to serve on our Board," said Notarize CEO Pat Kinsel. "Before and after the appointment, people said time and again how much they respected Larry – not just for what he knows and what he's accomplished, but more importantly for how he's built and led teams. As we looked to reinforce our culture and build our executive team for our next phase of growth and expansion, it was very clear that the person we needed was already seated at our table."
